

"SYSTEM" SCARES MURDER WITNESS INTO VANISHING

Coupe, Night Clerk of Elks' Club, Missing After Many Threats.

ABUSED OVER PHONE.

"Dog" and "Squealer" Rang in Ears Until Fear Drives Him Away.

Thomas Coupe, formerly night clerk at the Elks' Club on West Forty-third street and one of the witnesses of the "murder automobile" immediately after the killing of Herman Rosenthal, has suddenly left the city without putting his destination in the hands of the District Attorney. It was said at the Elks' Club to-day that Coupe had been discharged for "good and sufficient reason" and that last Wednesday he had left the club building, where he had been living since Whitman first discovered him as a witness a few hours after the firing of the fatal shots in front of the Metropolitan.

Though it was intimated by a man who said that he was manager of the club that the missing witness had departed for Europe the day after he left the club, the impression prevails in the District Attorney's office that Coupe had not left the country. It is also established that the constant receipt over the telephone of word of mouth of threats and slurs against him as a "squealer" had influenced Coupe in a sudden determination to remove himself from the possible injury by the "system."

SAW ASSASSINS FLEE IN GRAY AUTO.

The former night clerk of the Elks' Club is not in the rank of leading witnesses in the murder conspiracy. When Whitman picked him up, the morning following the murder, Coupe said he had seen several men run to a gray automobile which was standing diagonally across the street from the entrance to the Metropolitan, jump in and be carried in the direction of Sixth avenue. Later, when Ross, Webber, Vallon, "Duke Frank" Cirochi and Shapiro were caught, Coupe was unable to identify any of them as having been the men he saw in the machine. The only particular point he could emphasize was that he saw one man standing on the running board with a revolver in his hand.

As soon as Whitman heard Coupe's story he held him as a witness and asked that he be relieved from duty at the Elks' Club, but he was allowed to remain in the building and receive full protection until he was called upon to testify. The District Attorney's wishes were complied with by the organization. Coupe was relieved of all duty—not "fired," as the club manager said to-day—and he accepted a room in the club until Friday.

It was learned to-day that during the interim following the murder Coupe was called to the telephone many times and roundly cursed as a "dirty dog" and a "squealer." Other employees of the club libeled and leered at him continually. Members are said to have made threats upon the witness's peace of mind. He rarely left the club building, having a wholesome fear of what might happen to him if any of the friends of the "system" should lay hands upon him.

"FIRED," SAYS MANAGER, DENOUNCING COUPE.

When an Evening World reporter called at the club to-day he was met by a short, thick set man, wearing glasses, who said he was the club's manager. When the first question about Coupe's disappearance was put to this official he broke forth explosively:

"That fellow's a skunk and a cur, and I don't know anything about him." "Do you know where he has gone?" was another question.

"They say he's in Europe, but I don't know and I don't care a damn." "Was Coupe discharged from the club?"

"Certainly, if you don't suppose he would have left if he wasn't. He wouldn't dare leave the building."

When the manager was asked if the influence of the Elks had been brought to bear to secure Coupe's discharge, he answered profanely that any fool could figure that out for himself.

TELLS OF DARING ROBBERY.

Woman Declares She Was Chloroformed in Bed and Rings Stolen.

A story told by Mrs. Lillian Mazza, twenty-one-year-old wife of Louis Mazza, a paperhanger of No. 38 West Sixty-fourth street, of how she was chloroformed in bed, about 7 o'clock this morning, and robbed of three rings valued at $250, by a man whom she knows, is being investigated by detectives from the West Sixty-eighth street station. Mrs. Mazza came to the station suffering from the effects of some drug, and said she had been to the office of Dr. William E. Young of No. 5 West Fifty-fifth street, where she had been treated for chloroform poisoning.

To Detective Quinn she described the man she said had entered her bedroom, she said he seized her by the throat, pressing a handkerchief saturated with chloroform over her mouth. While she was unconscious the thief took from her hands two solitaire diamonds and one cluster containing thirty chip diamonds, she said. The robbery took place just after her husband had started for work.

Her Hint.
(From the Chicago Record-Herald.)
"God never intended man to live alone," he said.
"I suppose not," she sadly replied.
"And I often wonder if he really intended that so many married women should live alone."

Then he thought better of it and decided not to go down town that night.

OLYPHANT WEDDING IN GRACE CHURCH STIRS SOCIETY

Miss Marie Olyphant Marries Mr. Robert Olyphant After Year's Engagement.

The marriage yesterday of Miss Marie Olyphant, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Olyphant of No. 125 West Fifty-ninth street, to Mr. Robert Olyphant, of No. 78 West Fifty-fifth street, which was performed in the chancel of Grace Church by the Rev. Charles Wright Clark, with only the families of the bride and groom present has caused quite a stir in society.

The bride, during the summer, has been with her parents at Beechhurst Inn, Lawrence, L. I. Although the engagement of the couple was never announced, it was said to-day at the town house of Mrs. Talbot Olyphant that it has existed for over a year. The bridegroom is fifty years of age, while his bride is not yet thirty.

Mrs. Talbot Olyphant and her daughters, Miss Annabelle and Mrs. Theron N. Strong, the wife of one of District Attorney Whitman's assistants, arrived in town yesterday and remained only a few minutes at their residence on Fifty-ninth street, before they went to Grace Church with the bride and were joined by Mr. Robert Olyphant, the bridegroom, and his two sons, Robert Jr. and J. Kenneth Olyphant. The ceremony was very simple. Immediately afterward the wedding company went to Delmonico's, where an informal wedding breakfast was served.

The bridegroom is a widower and resides at the Avon Apartments. It was said to-day that he had made arrangements to bring his bride there for the winter after their honeymoon through Canada.

Mr. Talbot Olyphant, the bride's father, is the president of the Hudson Coal Company at No. 26 Liberty street. Talbot Olyphant is a nephew of Robert M. Olyphant, former head of the Ward & Olyphant Coal Company, which is now in liquidation. Robert Olyphant, the bridegroom, is a third cousin of the bride. The bridegroom and his sons are now conducting the affairs of the old

Ward-Olyphant Coal Company, at No. 17 Battery place.

For years the Olyphants, all related, have been prominent in society and leaders in the coal business. Robert M. Olyphant, who lives at No. 160 West Fifty-ninth street, is eighty years old, but is still active and a prominent clubman. Robert Olyphant, the bridegroom, is a member of the Union, Army and Navy, City and New York Yacht Clubs. He is also a member of the Society of Colonial Wars and a Son of the Revolution.

SPOKE TO WOMEN; FINED.

Bookkeeper Addressed Several on Fifth Avenue and Is Arrested.

Joseph R. E. LeFevre, a bookkeeper for the Unionport Chemical Company, living at No. 47 West Thirty-ninth street, was fined $10 in Yorkville Court to-day for speaking to women who were strangers to him on Fifth avenue. Policeman Lydie of the West Thirtieth street station said he saw LeFevre walk up to several women, who at once turned away from him. Lydie watched him, he said, until he laid a hand on a woman's arm and tried to detain her. Then he arrested the man. Lydie said that on the way to the station LeFevre insisted on bowing and making endearing remarks to every woman they met, to the amusement of the policeman. LeFevre said he had been at a birthday dinner and felt kindly and affectionate toward all the world. He said he had not meant to annoy anybody. He did not have the money to pay his fine and was locked up.
